k|stone® care instructions

k|stone® is a quality product that is 100% produced in europe. it is characterized by its pleasant, natural stone-like, and warm feel and is particularly easy to maintain. please note the following care instructions before use.

for regular and proper maintenance of our k|stone® products, we recommend our „clean & care“ k|stone® cleaner, specially developed for cleaning mineral surface materials. additionally, k|stone® can be cleaned with a damp cloth and a mild all-purpose or neutral cleaner.

for cleaning interior surfaces of furniture, please use a damp cloth. stubborn stains can be removed with a commercially available sponge and suitable cleaners.

if conventional cleaning is not sufficient, please refer to the „scratch repair“ section.

nicotine stains

k|stone® is non-flammable, but a smoldering cigarette can leave nicotine or burn marks. in this case, use a scouring cream or a scouring sponge to remove the stains. shiny surfaces can be polished afterward with colourless car polish.

scratch repair

in most cases, k|stone® can be repaired. small chips, scratches, or stains can be removed using fine sandpaper and a scotch-brite™ pad.

for matte surfaces – to refurbish matte surfaces, we recommend sanding the affected area with soft sanding pads (220) until the scratch is no longer visible. for a uniform appearance, you should then sand the area with soft sanding pads (320).

for glossy surfaces – to refurbish glossy surfaces, we recommend using an extremely fine sanding pad. start with a 1000-grit pad and work your way up to 2000-grit and then 3000-grit. once the sanding process is complete and all scratches are removed, you can start polishing. use a colourless car polish (sanding polish) and polish the affected area until you achieve the desired level of gloss.

k|stone® is an environmentally friendly material that is 100% recyclable. every product made with k|stone® can be recycled and returned to the production cycle.

due to its composition without additives, k|stone® is a hypoallergenic and antibacterial material.

note

products containing the following ingredients should not be used on k|stone® products:

- hydrogen peroxide
- ammonia
- aminophenol
- phenylendiamine
- toluylendiamine
- resorcinol
- iodine

all warranty claims become invalid when using products with the listed ingredients. the general warranty period is 5 years.

general terms and conditions of supply for products and services of knief & co. gmbh for business transactions with contractors

i. general terms

1. these general delivery terms shall apply exclusively to any legal relations between knief & co. gmbh (hereinafter: "kco") and the contractual partners in connection with deliveries and/or services as well as offers of kco. they shall be part of any contracts kco enters into with its contractual partners (hereinafter the "customer") for the deliveries and services offered by kco.

2. these general delivery terms shall also apply to any future deliveries, services, or offers to customer, even if not agreed again separately.

3. customer's or third parties' terms and conditions shall apply only to the extent that kco has explicitly agreed to them in writing, even in the case of unconditionally executed customer orders.

ii. offer and conclusion of contract

1. all offers made by kco are subject to change without notice and non-binding, except if they are explicitly marked as binding or containing a specific deadline for acceptance. kco may accept orders within two weeks of receipt by sending the ordered products or by sending an order confirmation.

2. the legal relationship between kco and customer shall be subject solely to the written contract or written order confirmation, each including these general delivery terms. verbal side agreements are not legally binding.

3. supplements to and amendments of the agreements made, including these general delivery terms, shall require written form in order to be effective. apart from managing directors, the employees of kco or other vicarious agents charged by kco shall not be entitled to enter into any deviating agreements.

4. transmission by telecommunication, in particular by telefax or by email, shall be sufficient to comply with the requirement of written form, provided that a copy of the signed declaration is transmitted.

5. information on the matter of the delivery or service (e.g. dimensions, weights, load-bearing capacity, tolerances, composition) as well as drawings and illustrations shall only be binding if explicitly agreed in writing, except if usability for the contractually intended purpose requires precise conformity. instead of guaranteed characteristics, they are descriptions or identifications of the delivery or service. deviations customary in the trade and deviations based on legal regulations or to integrate technical improvements, as well as replacement of components by equivalent parts, shall be permitted as far as they do not impair usability for the contractually intended purpose.

iii. prices, terms of payment, and offsetting

1. the prices shall only be valid for the scope of delivery and/or service agreed in the contract or the order confirmation. the prices are stated in euros, at kco's option ex works or ex company headquarters bremen, plus applicable statutory value added tax. the agreed incoterms shall be binding for export deliveries.

2. if kco has taken over transport, and in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, customer shall bear all transport costs in addition to the contractual remuneration for these services.

3. prices promised in writing shall be fixed prices. otherwise, the list prices of kco that are valid at the time of delivery as well as the conditions negotiated in individual cases shall apply.

4. invoiced amounts shall be due and payable to kco's bank accounts free of charge without at once after receipt of the invoice by customer, except if agreed differently in writing. the date of receipt by kco shall be decisive for the date of payment. payment shall only be deemed made if kco can dispose of the amount. payment by cheque or bill of exchange shall only be deemed made upon redemption. customer must reimburse kco for any additional amounts incurred in connection with the redemption without undue delay. if customer does not pay an amount when due, interest of 5% p.a. shall be incurred on the outstanding amounts from the due date onwards.

the right to claim higher interest and further damages in cases of default shall remain unaffected.

5. any payments shall be applied first to costs, then to interest, and then to the oldest claim of kco, irrespective of any other stipulation by the client.

6. customer must only offset such counterclaims or withhold payment due to such claims that are legally established, undisputed, or acknowledged by kco. customer shall only have the right to exercise any right of retention if its counterclaim is based on the same contractual relationship and kco does not avert the exercise by providing collateral, including by way of bank guarantee.

iv. time of delivery and performance

1. deliveries shall be made ex works or ex company headquarters at the discretion of kco.

2. deadlines and dates for deliveries and services that have not been explicitly agreed as binding in writing shall be exclusively non-binding information. if shipment has been agreed, delivery deadlines and delivery dates shall refer to the time of handover to the forwarding agent, carrier, or other third party charged with the transport.

3. the deadlines and dates shall be postponed to a reasonable extent if customer does not meet its obligations.

4. if failure to meet deadlines and dates due to:

a) force majeure

b) other events that are unforeseeable at the time of conclusion of the contract (e.g. any kinds of operational disruptions, energy shortages, strikes, lawful lockouts)

c) obstacles caused for kco or its suppliers by german or other applicable legal regulations, periods and deadlines shall be extended appropriately, plus a reasonable start-up time. if reasons in accordance with a) to c) make delivery or performance substantially more difficult or impossible for kco and the obstacle is not only temporary in nature, kco and customer shall have the right to withdraw from the contract. claims for damages shall be excluded in such cases.

in other cases of non-compliance with the deadlines and dates, customer shall grant kco a reasonable grace period from the date of receipt of the written notice of non-compliance by kco.

5. kco shall have the right to make partial deliveries at any time if

a) customer can use the partial delivery within the scope of the contractual purpose,

b) customer does not incur any substantial additional expenses of its own or incur substantial additional costs towards any third parties, unless kco agrees to bear such costs.

v. loading, shipping, packaging, insurance

1. loading and shipping shall be at customer's risk.

2. the method of shipment and packaging shall be at kco's sole discretion. kco shall apply reasonable efforts to accommodate customer's wishes and interests concerning the shipment and packaging method.

3. kco shall not take back transport and other packaging in accordance with the packaging ordinance. customer shall be responsible for disposal of the packaging at its expense.

4. kco shall insure the shipment exclusively at customer's explicit written request and at customer's expense.

5. the risk of shipment in case of return of the delivery shall be borne by customer, except if the return is due to legal or contractual obligations of kco.

vi. transfer of risk

1. risk shall pass to customer at the latest when the delivery item is handed over to the carrier, freight forwarder, or other third party designated to perform the shipment. handover to the carrier shall be deemed to have taken place at the beginning of the loading process. this shall also apply if partial deliveries are made or if kco has assumed any other services (e.g. transport).

if the shipment or handover is delayed due to circumstances caused by customer, risk shall pass to customer on the day on which the delivery item is ready for shipment and kco has notified customer of this.

2. storage costs subsequent to transfer of risk shall be borne by customer.

vii. warranty

1. the warranty period shall be two years from the date of delivery or, if acceptance is required, from the date of acceptance. this period shall not apply to any claims for damages by customer due to injury to life, body, or health or from intentional or grossly negligent breaches of obligations by kco or its vicarious agents, in each case time-barred in accordance with the statutory provisions.

2. the warranty shall not apply if customer or a third party modifies/repairs the delivery item without kco's consent, defects cannot be remedied or if remedy becomes unreasonably difficult as a result, or if the delivery item is improperly handled, stored, or maintained. customer shall bear any additional costs for the reasonable remedying of defects resulting from the modification.

3. the delivery of used items agreed with customer in exceptions shall be excluded from warranty.

viii. defects of material

1. due to its nature, ceramic material may show cracks in the glaze and colour deviations. in addition to colour deviations, orders for second-choice tiles (reduced quality assortment) may also show defects on the edges or in the surface quality. none of these marks affect the quality of the coating. they do not constitute any defect. in the case of natural materials, e.g. marble or natural stone in general, colour deviations, glass veins, hairline cracks, and similar material deviations may occur. kco accepts no warranty for these either.

2. bathtubs and shower trays made of sanitary acrylic as well as all products of k|stone mineral material shall be supplied in accordance with the relevant technical requirements resulting from ce conformity.

3. the delivery item must be inspected carefully without undue delay following delivery to customer or to a third party designated by customer. concerning any obvious defects, missing parts, or other defects that would have been apparent upon prompt and careful inspection, the delivery items shall be deemed approved by customer if kco does not receive any written notice of defect within seven business days after delivery. regarding any other defects of material, the delivery items shall be deemed accepted by customer if kco does not receive any written notice of a defect within seven working days after the date on which the defect has become apparent. however, if the defect was already apparent to customer at an earlier time during regular use, that earlier time shall be decisive for commencement of the period for giving notice of the defect. customer must not refuse delivery due to insignificant defects.

4. any rejected delivery item must be returned to kco freight prepaid upon kco's request. in case of a justified complaint, kco shall reimburse the costs of the most favourable shipping method. this shall not apply if costs increase because the delivery item is located at a place other than the place of intended use.

5. if there are any defects of material in the delivered goods, kco shall be obligated and entitled to repairing or replacing the goods twice. if this fails, i.e. if the repair or replacement is impossible, unreasonable, refused, or unreasonably delayed, customer shall be entitled to withdraw from the contract or to reduce the purchase price appropriately, except if further attempts of repair are appropriate and reasonable for customer due to the subject matter of the contract.

customer shall not have the right to withdraw from the contract or to reduce the purchase price if kco has the right to refuse subsequent performance based on the statutory provisions.

6. replacement and warranty parts will remain property of kco.

7. if any defect is due to kco's fault and if there is a case of failure, customer may claim damages subject to the conditions set out in item x.

8. if there are any defects in components of other manufacturers that kco is unable to remedy for reasons of licensing or due to factual reasons, kco shall, at its choice, assert its warranty claims against the manufacturers and suppliers for customer's account or assign them to customer. warranty claims against kco for such defects shall be subject to the other conditions and in accordance with these general delivery terms and shall apply only if the legal enforcement of the above claims against the manufacturer and supplier has been unsuccessful or is futile, e.g. due to insolvency.

ix. industrial property rights and copyrights; defects of title

1. except if otherwise agreed between the contracting parties, kco shall be obligated to deliver the goods free of third-party intellectual property rights and copyrights only in the country of the place of delivery.

2. items viii 7 and 8 shall apply accordingly in case of infringement of rights by items supplied by kco to other manufacturers and suppliers.

x. claims for damages

1. kco shall be liable in accordance with the mandatory statutory provisions if customer asserts any claims for damages, in particular those based on intent or gross negligence, for guaranteed characteristics or for injury to life, body, or health.

2. kco shall not be liable in case of simple negligence of its bodies, legal representatives, employees, or other vicarious agents, except in cases of violation of any essential contractual obligations. essential contractual obligations shall be, if agreed, the obligation to deliver the delivery item on time, to keep the goods free from defects of title and material that impair their function or usability more than insignificantly, as well as obligations to advise, protect, and take care of the goods intended to enable customer to use the delivery item in accordance with the contract or to protect the life and body of customer's personnel or to protect customer's property from substantial damage.

3. as far as kco is not charged with intentional breach of contract, its liability for damages shall be limited to damage kco has foreseen as a possible consequence of a breach of contract at the time of conclusion of the contract or that kco should have foreseen if applying due diligence. indirect damages and consequential damages that are the consequence of defects of the delivery item shall only be eligible for compensation as far as such damage is typically to be expected when using the delivery item as intended.

4. the above disclaimers and limitations of liability shall apply to the same extent for the benefit of kco's bodies, legal representatives, employees, and other agents.

5. as far as kco provides any technical information or advice and such information or advice is not part of the contractually agreed scope of services owed by kco, it shall be provided free of charge and subject to exclusion of any liability.

6. any liability for damages beyond the stipulations above on the part of kco shall be excluded.

xi. reservation of title

1. kco shall retain title in the delivered items (hereinafter also the "goods subject to retention of title") until all claims against customer from the business relationship have been met. if the value of all collateral rights to which kco is entitled exceeds the value of all secured claims by more than 20%, kco shall release a corresponding share of the collateral at customer's request. kco shall have the right to choose the collateral to be released.

2. while title is reserved, customer shall be prohibited from pledging or transferring title by way of collateral.

3. if customer resells goods subject to retention of title, it hereby assigns its future claims against its purchasers from the resale, together with any ancillary rights – including any balance claims – to kco as collateral, without the need for any further special declarations. if the goods subject to retention of title are resold together with any other items without individual prices being agreed for the goods subject to retention of title, customer shall assign that part of the total purchase price claim to kco that corresponds to the amount invoiced by kco for the goods subject to retention of title.

4. customer shall have the right to process the goods subject to retention of title or to mix or combine them with other objects. processing shall take place for kco. customer shall keep the resulting new object for kco with the care of a prudent businessperson. the new object shall be considered goods subject to retention of title. kco and customer hereby agree that kco shall be due co-ownership of the new object in the amount of the share resulting from the ratio of the value of the combined or mixed goods subject to retention of title to the value of the other goods at the time of combination or mixing if the goods subject to retention of title are combined or mixed with any other objects that do not belong to kco. in this respect, the new object shall be deemed goods subject to retention of title.

the provision on the assignment of claims in accordance with sub-item 3 shall apply to the new item as well. however, the assignment shall only apply up to the amount corresponding to the value of the processed, combined, or mixed goods subject to retention of title invoiced by kco.

if customer combines the goods subject to retention of title with any real estate or movable property, it shall also assign its claim to remuneration for the combination, together with all ancillary rights, in the amount of the ratio of the value of the combined goods subject to retention of title to the other combined goods at the time of the combination, to kco as collateral.

5. until revocation, customer shall be authorised to collect assigned receivables from the resale. kco shall have the right to revoke customer's authorisation to collect for cause. kco shall then have the right to disclose the assignment as collateral and to realise the assigned receivables following prior warning and observance of a reasonable grace period.

6. customer shall inform kco without undue delay of any attachments, seizures, or other disposals or interventions by third parties. if any credible justified interest is presented, customer shall provide kco with the information required to assert its rights against customer's purchaser without delay. it shall hand over the necessary documents.

7. in cases of breach of obligations by customer, in particular in case of default of payment, kco shall have the right to withdraw from the contract in addition to taking back the goods following unsuccessful expiration of a reasonable grace period set for customer to perform; the legal provisions concerning dispensability of setting a grace period shall not be affected. customer shall be obligated to surrender the goods. taking back or assertion of the retention of title or seizure of the goods subject to retention of title by kco shall not constitute withdrawal from the contract, except if kco has explicitly declared this.

xii. jurisdiction and applicable law

1. the place of jurisdiction for any disputes arising directly or indirectly from the contractual relationship shall be the registered office of kco if customer is a merchant, a legal entity under public law, or a public-law special fund or if customer does not have any general place of jurisdiction in germany. however, kco shall also have the right to bring an action at customer's place of jurisdiction.

2. the relations between kco and customer, including interpretation of the contract, shall be subject exclusively to the laws of the federal republic of germany. the united nations convention on contracts for the international sale of goods of 11 april 1980 (cisg) shall not apply.

xiii. liability

the remaining parts of the contract and these general delivery terms shall remain binding even if individual provisions are legally invalid. any gaps in the provisions shall be deemed filled by such legally valid provisions that the contracting parties would have agreed in accordance with the economic objectives of the contract and the purpose of these general delivery terms, had they known of the gap in the provisions.
